Course Format: flexible sections

Organizes course content in any number of sections that can be nested. Each section can be displayed expanded or collapsed. This course format looks very similar to Topics format except:

- there is no parameter "Number of sections", sections can be added and removed as necessary
- section can also be added inside another section
- each section (regardless of its nesting level) can be shown expanded or collapsed. Teacher can change it in edit mode.
- If section is displayed collapsed, its name is displayed as a link to the separate page and on this separate page the link "Back to ... " is displayed
- If teacher hides a section all nested sections and activities become hidden as well.

Please note that if section has both activities and subsections activities are displayed first.
